TITLE III/PROFESSIONAL DEVELOPMENT
SCHOLARSHIP ANNOUNCEMENT

The Title III/Professional Development Program will again provide scholarship support for Lincoln University faculty and staff who are working towards a terminal degree. The latter mentioned degree is interpreted as the doctorate in a particular discipline or the master's in those disciplines which the university officially recognizes that degree as terminal.

In order to increase the number of Lincoln University faculty/staff who hold the terminal degree, the U.S. Department of Education is supportive of our plan to increase the overall percentage of terminal degreed persons within the Lincoln University ranks.

This fiscal year (October 1, 2014 thru September 30, 2015) the Title III Program will support as many persons as monies are available. Before applications can be processed the following stipulations must be met:

- ✓ Applicants must have been full-time employees of the University for at least one year.
- ✓ The following request must be filed with the application by deadline.
  - Proof of acceptance into a degree seeking program must be provided.
  - Proof that the applicant finished the courses in which they were enrolled (for employees who are currently Title III Scholarship recipients) must be provided.
- ✓ All parts of the application must be completed and turned into the Title III Office by November 15, 2014.

We anticipate providing scholarships of up to $3,000 per year. If granted a scholarship, the Professional Development Program will pay tuition and activity fess for the 2015 (calendar year) Winter, Summer and Fall Semesters.

For an application, please complete form on line or contact Bettye Driver for assistance by email at (driverb@lincolnu.edu).

No applications will be accepted after the November 15, 2014 deadline.
